INTRODUCTION

The Occupational Employment Statistics program . . .

- is the product of a cooperative agreement with the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the United States Department of Labor.
- is an annual mail survey.
- was designed to collect and publish data on occupational employment and wages of workers in nonfarm establishments.
- presents employment and wage estimate rates by occupation, industry and metropolitan statistical area.
- shows occupational employment and wage data of employees who worked or received pay during the pay period that included May 12, 2013.
- reports employment, mean and median hourly wages for more than 800 occupations.
- weighs the survey results to present total employment, as reported by the Quarterly Census of the Employment & Wages program (QCEW), for the second quarter of 2012.
- identifies the occupations according to the new 2010 Standard Occupational Classification Manual (SOC).
- shows that the occupations...
 - with the highest level of skills and education, also pay higher wages.
 - with the highest employment rate, but with lower wages, require only short term, on- the-job training.
- excludes data of self-employed persons.
